College Athletes & Influencers

The primary focus of NIL will be rewarding college athletes with a large social media presence in exchange for promoting products and services.

postgame

NIL is being launched in partnership with Postgame™ (pstgm.com) - the leading platform for college athletes to connect with advertisers. Postgame™ connects 5,000+ college athletes with opportunities to work with brands and earn from their Name, Image & Likeness.

Postgame intends to use NIL as a utility to reward athletes for participating in advertising / sponsorship campaigns through their platform.

NIL can be used by other platforms as well in the future. NIL is not dependent on any platform and will be available for any platform or 3rd party to leverage for influencer rewards.

NFT Opportunity in Athletics

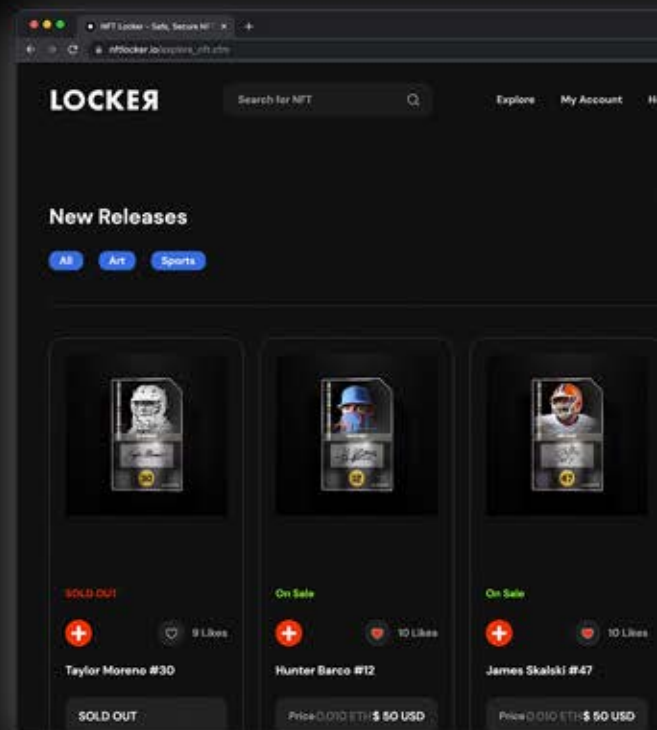

Along with building a scalable reward system to allow College Athletes and other influencers to use on the blockchain, there is also an opportunity for athletes to benefit from creating NFTs.

Think of NFTs as virtual collectibles. There is a whole new market of sports memorabilia for collectors to collect, buy and sell. Essentially, the NFT is today's version of the "Rookie Baseball Card".

One of the most expensive NFTs sold to day is an image of LeBron James purchased for $21.6 Million.
